THE FIRST ASSAULT

The person in particular do this early week of not "composing matagonism" of the Gibbs and Vera, saying the canvass like that between rival candidates for public favor may be conducted without bitterness or personal abuse. The Journal of Saturday evening, after the attack of Gibbs alluded above, made such a show of fairness that the Record was induced to paper which heretofore existed. The News said three gross calumnies by Republicans and their press, without foundation, their effect to create confidence to and in City Hall. We, do some other past history of Republicans and their press, can prove as well as the News has done, that the Republicans will not stop at any thing, no matter how gross or false, to carry their point. The Republicans will not stop at any thing, no matter how gross or false, to carry their point. The Republicans will not stop at any thing, no matter how gross or false, to carry their point.
